Dear George:

Because my complaint of [REDACTED] against you is of such an unusual nature, I took the liberty of not identifying the matter specifically before the committee. I did, however, outline in detail what had transpired.

The committee, to say the least, was very disturbed about your lack of judgment. They felt that every physician should practice in a defensive manner and that you did not do so by failing to have an aide or someone else present at the time that you allegedly took the photographs of the two youngsters. The committee felt that you exhibited, in not doing what would normally be expected of any reasonable physician, a certain malice and, therefore, handled the situation poorly in their estimation. We do hope that in the future, if you continue in this area, that you will take every precaution to prevent such a situation from arising again.

Sincerely yours,

Joseph S. Sadowski, M.D.
Chairman, Committee on
Medical Ethics and Department
